

Week 10 Belonging

It's the tenth, and final week of the Happiness project, and this week's theme was about belonging and how being part of a group can give meaning to our lives.

We talked with the children about different groups and teams they belonged to including the four Christ Church Houses. The children learned about Arthur Bliss, John Constable, Gerald DuMaurier and Robert Louis Stevenson and why they were chosen to represent the four house teams.

All the children, staff, governors and even some parents and carers drew their faces on to a giant Christ Church jigsaw, to show that we all belong to our school which is something very special!

We also thought about how it felt when we all performed the happiness concert. We belonged to something very special when we sang all those inspirational songs together.
