

During PSHE week all the children learnt about the work that the volunteers do at the Royal Free Hospital. Jonathan came in and spoke to us about what he did for the patients and how it was the volunteers' jobs to make a person's stay in hospital a bit nicer. He showed us the care bags that are given out and told us about special dogs that are taken into the children's wards.

Each child at the school made a birthday card for the charity. These will be used by the doctors and nurses at the hospital to wish any patients a Happy Birthday! It will hopefully make their special day in hospital slightly better.
