Talk to someone you trust if you have something that is against the rules. Remember, you can't keep the conversation if necessary. Also, block whoever is acting inappropriately.

REMEMBER that anything put online STAYS there FOREVER. So be cautious. This poster is there to help you think about some of the things you would want to be careful about when you use technology.

Electronic devices are a part of our lives. However, they are not used for entertainment. It is important to remember that using a mobile phone or tablet can be dangerous. You should always be careful when using a mobile phone or tablet. You should never give out your personal information to anyone online. You should also be careful of who you are talking to. Remember, you can't keep the conversation if necessary. Also, block whoever is acting inappropriately.

TALK to someone you trust if you have something that is against the rules. Remember, you can't keep the conversation if necessary. Also, block whoever is acting inappropriately.

Communicating with others using technology is a fantastic way to stay with your friends, but there are some things you should be careful of. For example, you should never give away your personal information to anyone online. You should also be careful of who you are talking to. Remember, you can't keep the conversation if necessary. Also, block whoever is acting inappropriately.

PARENTAL CONTROLS
My parents have set up an app called Aftersight on all devices. My parents can control the amount of time I spend, what websites I can look at and they can look at my device history.

ONLINE SAFETY
If you ever access a strange or something that makes you uncomfortable, always tell an adult. The same goes with something or someone asks for your personal details like your age, name, address, password, ETC.

However, I decided not to say that to my friends. The policeman then told her brother that she could go to Disneyland. Her brother took a photo of him and his sister in a dress in front of a yellow car. And posted it on Instagram.

The policeman told the woman who owned the laptop that he had found reported stolen.

Applesman saw it and realised it was the same laptop that had been reported stolen.

Lydia went to the cinema with TJ and was her new photo.

She told her son that he could use the money to take his friend to the cinema.

Lydia told her son that he could use the money to take his friend to the cinema.

Who gave her the photo?

All of this happened because one person was being smart.
