

This week we have continued our theme of dinosaurs and attempted to draw them (based on our research into fossils and the Natural History Museum). Our initial objective was to draw the body parts in correct proportion and some of us then developed upon this to include the dinosaur's habitat for a sense of scale! We also reflected upon why most people, including our own drawings, depict dinosaurs as green!

Year 3