

Year 3 Character Descriptions of Medusa

Her hair is a twisted mess of slimy hissing snakes.

Her eyes are a ghostly white, showing the empty terror of her feelings.

Her skin is covered in dark green scales, like a deadly serpent deep in a dark cave.

Medusa has lips as red as blood. If you notice Medusa's lips you might be scared because they look so bloody. Her nose is quite small but it's green as grass.

She smiles like a nice person but be careful!

Medusa's odd eyes are as white as freshly picked pearls. Her transparent, scaly skin smugly merges through quiet, dark ocean. Her blood red lips only feast on dead people. Her hair has scalding hot snakes fighting atop her head. Her tongue is darker than any shade of purple. Her dagger teeth are good shaped but are as sharp as ten blades.

Medusa has curly, long and gooey snake hair which tries to bite anyone who passes by.

Her glowing eyes are waiting to turn anyone into stone and her body and snakes ready to pounce at anyone who comes in.

Her evil smile makes your heart jump with fear.

With nothing to do her only fun is killing and turning innocent people into stone.

This was her only purpose in life.

Medusa's face is as scaly as the scaliest fish/snake in the world. It's so scaly it makes it ugly! The scales are so dark it looks like dark green broods everywhere! The hair/snakes are slimy, green hissing snakes they fight and bite all day long. Every time they bite brood slime spreads around the green hard head. As the snakes fight Medusa's orange eyes start rolling round because they always fight when she's angry.

She's got pearly white eyes as round as the earth that flash blinding red when she makes someone turn into stone. She has a hungry or sometimes greedy expression on her mouth that extends widely.

Medusa has frog like skin which is green and scaly. The people of Athens skin dazzles in the light but medusa's skin turns darker in the light. Her eyes burn darkly in bright candle light. The candle light is as yellow as gold. Her lips were velvet red and dripping with blood.

Perseus looked at the monster before him with a horrified shiver... The snake, monster, woman hybrid on front of him was a gruesome, scary, awful sight with dozens of green freaky hissing snakes instead of hair! They writhed and snapped, baring the vicious looking fangs. A putrid overpowering smell came from her ghostly white scaly skin. Her blood red eyes lit up with an evil light when she saw him. In an instant she was rushing towards him with a feline like speed...
