King Alfred was called 'Great' by many Anglo-Saxons. In fact, he was the first ever king to be Christened that name in the whole of British history. Alfred was a learnt man, who took great pride in his work, and longed to help his country to be a better place. The rebellious king relentlessly battled the Vikings, ending in victory for the Anglo-Saxons. His determination and strength helped the Anglo-Saxon kingdoms stay safe, and they all appreciated that himself and his army fought for peace, which is one of the reasons why they called him great.
