Sensory Shabbat At Home

Coconut Shell Kiddush Cup

We learnt about the story of Moses freeing the Egyptian slaves and how the elements of the Seder meal symbolise parts of the Passover story

Passover: Seder, Symbolism, Story

Year 6 were lucky enough to have two workshops led by the Jewish Museum whilst learning from home.

Day 3

JEWISH MUSEUM LONDON

We learnt about how and why Jewish people celebrate Shabbat every Friday night to Saturday night

Shabbat Time!

One day, Moses saw a guard beating a Jewish slave so hard that the slave died. Moses was so angry for his people that he killed the guard. Moses knew he had done a terrible thing. He ran away and became a shepherd.

One day, Moses saw a burning bush. Moses understood the burning bush was a sign from G-d. At this moment G-d spoke to Moses and told him to return to Egypt and demand that Pharaoh give his people freedom.

The Passover Story

The Jewish people were forced to build buildings and palaces in Egypt

A long time ago, in the land of Egypt, a cruel Pharaoh ruled as king. He made the Jewish people slaves and they were forced to build buildings from sunrise to sunset. Pharaoh's guards treated the Jewish people very badly. Then Pharaoh came up with a plan to kill all the new-born Jewish boys. He cried out 'All Jewish baby boys will be thrown into the River Nile!'
