

ACT

As part of our PSHE week learning, we decided to apply for an ACTIVE Citizenship award. This is an award scheme to celebrate and acknowledge positive social changes children are making in their communities through active citizenship. Inspired by one of our 'Have Your Say' presentations recently, we wanted to set up a Little Free Library outside school.

Next we started planning! We split into groups to cover each task. Some of us made signs to put up around school, some of us were in charge of making signs and instructions for the box and another group wrote a letter to Camden Council to tell them what we were planning to do.

First we spent some time researching existing Little Free Libraries. We looked up where they are around the world. There are over 100,000!

Now we just need to keep an eye on our library and hope that it is a success in the community!

We will write up our project and send it to ACT for our award!
