Dear parents and carers,

Thank you for your support of our Happiness Project so far this term – we have all been having a wonderful time learning all about different ways to support our own and others' mental well-being. It has been great to see parents joining in with our wake and shake sessions, supporting our 'try something new' trips (see below for photos and details) and attending our parent workshops.

We have four more themes to explore this half term: belonging, family and friends, celebrating difference and simplicity. We will be asking for parents' help with one part of our family and friends theme when we ask you to send your child in with a stamped envelope addressed to a more distant member of your family (in this country or abroad) – children will be writing cards and letters to help them stay connected to family. When we've done this in the past, this has been a lovely surprise for aunts, uncles, cousins and grandparents, spreading a little bit of happiness further afield; thank you in advance for your help with this.

It has been great to start our class assemblies again over the last month and see so many parents and family members squashed into the hall to watch. The remaining classes will present their class assemblies before the end of term (see dates below) and children are looking forward to sharing their work and learning with their families and the rest of the school. All family members very welcome!

Best wishes, Katy Forsdyke, Head teacher

Happiness Project – highlights of our 'Try something new' week!

Our 'try something new' week aims to develop children's confidence, resilience and openness to new experiences, helping them to overcome anxiety about trying new things whilst having a lot of fun! Judging by the children's comments about the activities they tried and how it made them feel positive about taking on a new challenge, we certainly achieved our aims!

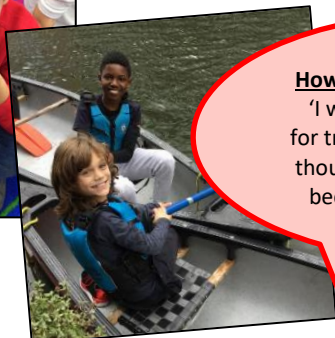

How did you feel beforehand?

'I was excited, but there was a part of me that didn't want to do it as I was scared.'

We enjoyed trying batik, tie-dye, kayaking, shelter building, fire-lighting, eating tropical fruits and circus skills!

How did you feel afterwards?

'I was really proud of myself for trying something new, even though I was worried about it, because I really enjoyed it!'

Happiness Project – November's themes

Belonging: 'belonging to something bigger' by being a part of all sorts of different groups and communities, gives us meaning in our lives

Our friends and family are vital to our positive mental health – staying connected and spending time together supports us in so many different ways!

Celebrating differences – understanding that we are all unique, different and wonderful and, in particular, understanding our own strengths and weaknesses, supports our own and others' well-being.

Simplicity – our final theme, which is also one of the school's core Christian values, is all about the importance of taking time for a moment of quiet, to focus on the present, without worrying about what's next, and to appreciate the wonders of nature around us
