

Great assembly, Year 5!

Thank you for sharing all your learning this term with us in such a confident and professional assembly!

March 2023

We were very impressed with your model bird hides created in DT. You explained the success criteria you followed (including the need for the bird hide to be accessible to all), how you worked in groups and how you independently used tools including a hot glue gun, saws, rulers and scissors to create some excellent models. They are brilliant!

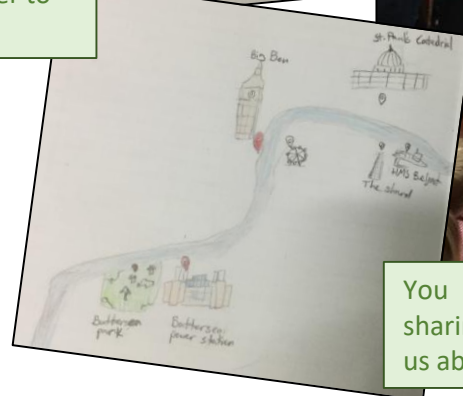

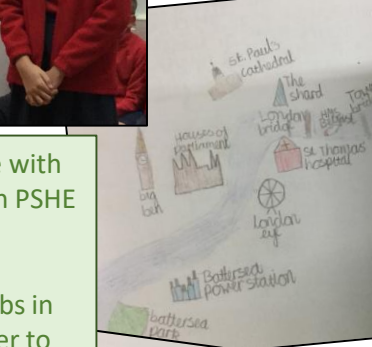

You told us all about your writing trying to persuade Macbeth to change his evil plans, your debate about whether it was right for the Anglo-Saxons to invade Britain and we even saw a snippet of one of your 'plays in a day' from a drama workshop!

You shared some very wise advice with us all - some from your learning in PSHE week about how to keep safe and healthy and some following your learning about the book of Proverbs in the Bible, including this super letter to your future self.

Dear future self,
Life is like a puzzle, everything will go together even if you think it is wrong or can never be fixed. There is still some hope left and that is something you should not forget. Even when times are rough, like losing a good friend, you can always find solutions. These can be finding even better new friends.

You should also remember that those who love you have helped when you were in need. So what can you do to return the favour? You can be there when they need assistance like your parents, relatives and friends.

One last thing I want to tell you is that you should never stop believing in yourself. Some people in life will always try to bring you down but you need to get back up again. You need to know what is right and what is wrong for you, otherwise you won't succeed in life.

You explained all your learning about rivers, including sharing your sketch maps of the River Thames and telling us about your trip to the Thames Explorer in Chiswick.
