

On 5th July 2023, we gathered for third our annual Charlie Chesser Award assembly. This is a time when we gather together to remember our former pupil, Charlie Chesser. We remember his exceptional kindness, how he was always thoughtful to others and how caring he was, especially of those who might need a boost or cheering up. Each class teacher chooses a child in the class who, over the course of the year, has demonstrated some of these qualities. Congratulations to those who were chosen to receive the award this year.

The recipients were invited to the front of the assembly to receive a special certificate, book and bookmark. As they went back to sit down, their class teacher pinned a special badge on them to wear with pride.

Each year, during the assembly, we learn about one of the quotations on the beautiful art work in our playground which also remembers Charlie. This year we thought about what it means to 'be a rainbow in someone else's cloud' which was said by the American author and campaigner, Maya Angelou.
