

Reception's CAP project - Autumn 2023

Our Inspiration: Goal 15 - Life on Land

- We chose to create artwork inspired by the sustainable development goal - life on land - thinking about the importance of trees and plants.
- We created our own trees in the style of Wassily Kandinsky's concentric circles painting.
- He was a Russian abstract artist who used shapes and lots of colours in his paintings.

We used watercolour paint to create our backgrounds and made the tree trunk and branches by printing our hands.

We explored direct printing using a variety of materials. First, we used potatoes to print the first layer of concentric circles.

Finally, we printed another layer of circles directly on to our artwork using playdough pots. The final step involved arranging and gluing our concentric circles.

Once the first layer was dry, we then we printed two more layers of circles with sponges.
