

To support our learning about traditional tales and explorers, Reception visited the Little Angel Theatre to watch a performance of 'The Curious Rat'.

Reception's trip to the

We walked to the theatre, took our seats and watched an amazing puppet show! 'The Curious Rat' tells the story of Lucien, a lonely city rat who watches the pigeons from his home under Waterloo Bridge and wishes he could join them in the sky. One day he spots the most amazing pigeon and takes his first brave steps to follow her into the lights of the big city...

We travelled on the tube for the first time to Angel and had a lovely picnic in the park!

Some of us even got to hold the puppets after the performance!

We loved watching the animations and puppets. At the end of the show, we took part in a Q&A with the puppets. They asked us if we could be a pigeon or a rat for a day, which animal would we choose? Lots of Reception children said they wanted to be pigeons so they could fly to the top of the London Eye!
