Learning about the convention on the rights of the child

We focused on Article 2, learning that all children around the world have rights and thought it was important to show this in our art. We all drew a picture of ourselves around our planet, sharing with our friends for their artworks too!

We used stencils to print different coloured polka dots on to our paper. Some of us wanted to create patterns others of us wanted to randomly add colour.

We used a salad spinner mixing around different shades of green and blue to make our planet pictures. Our inspiration was taken from Damien Hirst's spin paintings, which he creates by pouring paint from a height onto a rotating disc.
