

What a fabulous assembly, Year 5!

Well done! You were so professional and confident in your presentation and you shared all your learning in such an interesting and entertaining way!

You confidently taught us all about the battle for the throne in the build up to 1066 and the different claimants. We also loved your rap all about the Bayeux Tapestry.

We loved hearing all about the Sikhi way of life – you shared so much of what you have learnt in RE with us and your Sikh name designs were beautiful.

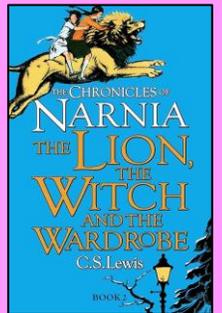

You taught us all about the features of a river and how different features are formed by natural processes.

In the hidden cottage were two torn up leather chairs. On the chair lay neatly folded handmade blankets. Across the walls were rows and rows and rows of dusty, hard-backed books, sitting on wonky shelves. In the ancient walls were beautiful carvings of mythical creatures, lit by a flickering fire which made the small den nice and warm. Opposite the fire was a tiny round table stacked with cheese and ham sandwiches, and custard creams scattered on bright blue plates. The cottage was a marvellous place.

We also heard some amazing writing based on your current text in English, 'The Chronicles of Narnia: The Lion, The Witch and The Wardrobe'.
